

EASTER EGG ROLL COMMEMORATIVE EGGS

Design Your Own Commemorative White House Easter Egg Roll Set!

2014 Commemorative Eggs on the South Lawn

Since 1878, Easter Monday has been the day the Easter Egg Roll takes place and is held at the White House on the South lawn. Americans from all over the country join in together to take part in this popular public event that is hosted by the presidents and their families. To celebrate this event, there are commemorative, or keepsake, eggs (pictured at left) people can buy to remember their experience at the event. This photo displays commemorative eggs from the 2014 Easter Egg Roll collection with a bunny on a swing set, showcasing the excitement around the Easter holiday. In this activity, you can design your own set of commemorative eggs. These sets of eggs usually feature eggs that are all unique but are also all connected in some way. Check out our example then try your hand at making your own set!

Directions:

Use the template below to design your own set of commemorative eggs. Once you have designed your eggs, write a short description about the overall theme that ties your egg designs together.

Supply List:

Markers, pens, color pencils, crayons, brushes, paint - anything you want to use for your creative egg design!

This example set of 2021 commemorative Easter eggs features colorful eggs that reminded me of the colors of springtime. Each egg is wearing a mask to remind everyone to keep wearing their masks to keep our communities safe during the COVID-19 pandemic.
